Anti Money Laundering (AML) Requirements – Guide for New Business, Top-ups and Payments Out

Anti Money Laundering (AML) Requirements – New Business and Top-ups

This document is an aid for completion of the application form and should be read in conjunction with the relevant new business application form.

Other common forms that may need to be submitted along with AML requirements include:

- Tax Residency Self-Certification Form
- Declaration of beneficial ownership
- Declaration of residence outside Ireland

Prudential International AML Requirements

Prudential International Assurance plc (PIA) is authorised and regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland and is obliged to comply with Irish AML law rather than UK AML law.

There are important differences in AML regulations between the UK and Ireland. A primary difference is the concept of “reliance”. In the UK, Prudential can rely on the financial adviser to provide a Certificate of Introduction as verification of the customer’s identity. Due to Irish AML law requirements, PIA requires certified copies of documents to verify the identity and address of the legal and beneficial owners of the application being submitted.

All copy documentation listed in this guide and that is submitted to PIA must be certified as true copies of the relevant document. Please submit certified copies of documents, rather than the original of the document unless otherwise stated in this Guide.

Helpful Tips:

- Send in a bank statement to cover both address ID and bank account verification. The statement must show the full name and address of the individual being verified, and must be from a regulated institution.
- Clean clear passports or other forms of photo ID – all four corners of the document visible including any reference numbers
- Address ID needs to be dated within the last six months
- For Trusts we need a copy of the original Trust Document along with all Supplementary Deeds changing Trustees etc.
- For Absolute Trusts we always require AML documentation for all beneficial owners – this always has to be a natural person
- For Discretionary Trusts we always need to know the classes of beneficiaries covered by the Trust. The classes covered are often, but not always, defined in the Trust Deed
- For Trusts, we require AML documentation on the Settlor (if alive).
- If monies are coming from a Joint Bank Account we need AML documentation on all account holders.
- Bank Drafts or cheques drawn on a bank’s own account will not be accepted.

What is a Certified Copy of a Document?

- Each copy document must be individually certified. The copy, including any photograph, must be clear, legible and complete (entire document must be provided). PIA reserves the right to reject and request a new certified copy of a document if the copy received is of sub-standard quality.
- The certified copy must include a statement such as “This document is a true and accurate copy of the original seen before me on DD/MM/YYYY” or words to that effect and the certifier’s name must be clearly shown in block capitals along with their signature; If the document being certified is a copy of an identity document with a photograph e.g. passport, the certifier must also state that they confirm that “it is a true likeness” of the individual.
- The certification must include the certifier’s contact details (if not provided elsewhere in the application documents), the certifier’s occupation that permits them to legitimately certify the document, and the certifier’s professional registration number (if they have one).
- The certifier’s full name must be clearly printed. The certification must be no older than six months and must be clear. The certification must be signed, dated and where available a stamp should be used by the certifier;
- When certifying documents, the certifier must not be a close family member or have any perceived, potential or apparent conflicts of interest with the customer.
- Foreign Documents: Foreign documents should be translated into English before being provided to PIA. However, PIA may be able to accept documentation if the relevant party’s name and address information is clear and PIA is able to recognise the third party that generated it, e.g., a bank or utility company.

- Regulated Financial or Credit Institution*
- Commissioners for Oaths
- Justice of the Peace
- Notaries Public/Practising Solicitors

* The institution must be subject to UK AML regulations or local AML regulations that transpose the latest in-force EU AML Directive or equivalent requirements.

Section 1: The AML Process

Step 1

Who are the Applicants and parties involved and have they an interest in the contract?

The obvious parties to the contract are the applicants and owners of the plan.

Other common interested parties include:

- Beneficial Owners*
- Trustees
- Settlor of a Trust
- Company Directors
- Legal entities – Company/Corporate Trustee etc

Note: This is not an exhaustive list.

Step 2

What information do we need on these parties?

For all identified interested Individuals we need

- Proof of their Identity
- Proof of their Address

Please refer to Section 2: AML Requirements for Individuals for acceptable forms of Proof of Identity and Address for the Individuals involved.

For entities we also require additional information on the entity itself:

Common examples of additional information include:

- Authorised Signatory lists
- Copy of Trust Deeds & Supplementary Trust Deeds
- Memorandum and Articles of Association etc

Please refer to Section 3: Additional AML Requirements for Entities on page 9 for a list of additional information broken down by entity type.

* A beneficial owner of a Trust includes the Settlor, the Trustees, The Protector (if any), and all Beneficiaries.

Where a Beneficiary of the trust is a corporate entity, the individual shareholders with a shareholding or controlling interest of  $\geq 25\%$  (held directly or indirectly through another legal entity) or persons who exercises control over the management of the company, are considered to be the beneficiaries of the Trust in respect of the corporate entity's interest in the Trust.

A beneficial owner of a Company is an individual with a shareholding or controlling interest of  $\geq 25\%$  (held directly or indirectly through another legal entity) or an individual who exercises control over the management of the Company.

Step 3

How have they amassed their wealth?
(Source of Wealth)

All applicants must declare their Source of Wealth on the application form.

PIA may request further information and/or clarification from the financial adviser regarding Source of Wealth. Examples include:

- For cases of over 5 million in value (regardless of currency)
- Where the Source of Wealth does not appear to be consistent with the information provided
- If the customer's place of residence or employment is deemed high risk from a corruption or bribery perspective e.g. oil exploration
- If the Source of Wealth provided is a gift, inheritance, loan, competition or gambling win and the value is > 100,000 (regardless of currency)

Please refer to Section 4: Additional AML Requirements for some examples of what evidence PIA might require for Source of Wealth.

Step 4

What is the source of the funds?

What bank account are the monies coming from? (must be held in the name of the applicant(s)).

We may require a certified copy of a bank statement to verify the source of funds account and that it is owned by the applicant. The bank account details must be provided in the Payment Details section of the application form.

Payment to PIA is only acceptable via electronic transfer or cheque. Bank Drafts and Bank Own Account Cheques will not be accepted.

Section 2: AML Requirements for Individuals

Under the Irish Criminal Justice Act 2010 (as amended) (the Act), PIA is obliged to apply AML measures specified in the Act prior to the commencement of a business relationship with the customer. All relevant AML, as outlined in this document, is required before a new business application or transaction can proceed.

The following AML documentation is required for all persons with an interest in the Bond, including:

- Individuals
- Trustees
- The Settlor of a Trust
- Company Directors
- Partners
- Beneficial Owners
- Payer of monies

These AML requirements are also applied to professionals such as solicitors, attorneys and financial advisors acting either in a professional or personal capacity.

PIA cannot accept and hold monies from a customer unless AML requirements are satisfied. To avoid monies being returned to the source account, AML documentation should be provided to PIA in respect of the customer before, or at the same time that monies are transferred.

Notes:

- 1) The same document cannot be used to satisfy both the proof of ID and proof of address requirements. One acceptable photographic identification document and one acceptable proof of address document must be provided unless otherwise stated in this Guide.
- 2) Where the Proof of Identity and/or Proof of Address document is in the individual's birth name and the application is in the married name of that individual, we require a certified copy of the marriage certificate as an additional verification document.

- 4) Change of Address requests in relation to a policyholder or a beneficial owner/beneficiary must be in the form of a written instruction from the policyholder, and must be accompanied with valid address verification.
- 5) Communications from utility suppliers e.g., welcome letters, reminder notices, that are not utility bills are not acceptable.
- 6) If Source of Funds originates from a Joint Bank Account, AML requirements for an individual must also be executed in respect of the Joint Payor who is not the Customer (proposed policyholder).

Important:

In all cases a written confirmation from the Financial Adviser with appropriate explanations as to why the customer cannot provide the standard documents listed is required.

Non-Standard AML Documentation

Where an individual is genuinely not in a position to provide the standard evidence of identity and/or proof of address, it is important that he/she is not prevented access to the financial system solely due to not being able to produce particular documentation.

This table confirms the special groups where PIA considers it reasonable that a Customer cannot provide standard AML documents, and for each special group a list of alternative documents is provided. The alternative documents must include sufficient evidence to enable verification of the Customer by PIA.

The list is non-exhaustive and PIA will provide further guidance where it is reasonable to conclude that neither the standard documents nor the alternatives listed can be provided.
